Bids for Electrical Supplies Received—E. D. Goode wants Franchise on Third Street—Request of Pacific Electric Will Not be Complied with

Regular Meeting

All trustees present except Mr. White. The regular order was dispensed with and bids for supplies for electrical department were opened and declared and referred to the electric light committee in conjunction with the manager of that department. Bids from ten different individuals and concerns were read, all accompanied by checks as required. A motion prevailed that when adjournment was made it be until 2 p. m., Monday next.

Various reports were received and filed.

A communication was received from the local agent of the Pac. Elec. Railway Co., requesting that said company be considered in the matter of transportation of poles and other material for the lighting department; same was filed.

A petition was received from A. P. Offutt for the privilege of operating a livery stable at Fourth and Mary streets; referred to police and sanitary committee.

A petition was received from E. D. Goode that a franchise be offered for sale according to law for the construction and operating of a street railway from Glendale avenue west on Third street to Brand boulevard, thence south on Fourth street. It was filed for consideration later.

An application to do street work by private contract on a portion of Doran street, was received from J. D. Cathcart and was granted. (Trustee White entered at 8 p. m.)

An ordinance establishing the grade of Eighth street from the southerly prolongation across Eighth street of the west line of the Glendale Ina tract, to a point 365 feet east from the east line of Everett street, was taken up for third reading and finally passed.

An ordinance creating the office of manager of the electric light department, passed first and second reading.

The plans and specifications for a transformer-house were referred to the city attorney, and the manager of the electric light department. The city attorney and city engineer were instructed to take necessary steps for the improvement of Glendale avenue from Sixth street to city limits. The board decided not to comply with the request of the Pacific Electric company for the repeal of section 8 of their franchise on Fourth street. The petition of Mr. E. D. Goode in regard to a franchise on Third street, was referred to the committee of the whole.

CITY TRUSTEES IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Hear Arguments Presented by Citizens—People Not in Favor of Changing Terms of Fourth Street Franchise—It will Expire in January

The public being invited to participate in the meeting of the trustees last Monday evening, when that body met as a committee of the whole to consider the Pacific Electric franchise on Fourth street, attended in large numbers. In fact, the outsiders were the whole thing, the trustees sitting as learners at the feet of the taxpayers—metaphorically speaking. Chairman Watson called the meeting to order. The letter from the law firm of Gibson, Trask, Dunn and Crutcher, purporting to represent the Interurban Railway company, (published last week), in which the announcement was made that the track will not be relied on Fourth street, and further that the franchise will not be transferred unless the clause in it relating to exchanges be eliminated, was read and the discussion began. A number of interesting ideas were expressed in regard to the franchise, the bond of $1500 given to insure performance of its requirements on the part of the railroad company, etc. Edgar Leavitt, Esq., expressed the belief that the franchise was drawn in such terms that the clause relating to transfers to and from any other railroad company operated within the city of Glendale could not be enforced anyhow. Other speakers were doubtful whether the amount of the bond could be collected, an idea which was declared by Mr. Vesper and others to be incorrect, as the bond being given by a reputable bonding company, it remained only for the city to present easily obtained proof that it had been forfeited and to deal direct with the bonding company and not the railroad.

It was the generally expressed opinion of the meeting that there is still a possibility that the railroad company would reconsider its decision in the matter and that no action should be taken which would tend to complicate the situation. At the same time there does not seem to be any good reason why the terms of the franchise should be changed, when the railroad company has no use for the old thing anyhow. A resolution offered by Mr. J. A. Eppinger that it was the sense of the meeting that no action be taken by the trustees until January next when the franchise lapses, was carried unanimously.

She says she is glad to get back to beautiful Glendale, well satisfied to make this her future home, and her many friends are glad to see her back.

Mr. A. R. Ballantyne in sending in his subscription to the NEWS from Berea, Ky., writes:

"We are about thirty miles from Lexington and sixteen from Richmond. It is historic ground all around here. Lincoln's birthplace is only a few miles distant and the Confederate troops marched through here to Richmond, where one of the great battles of the Civil war was fought. Hope this will find our old friends in Tropico and Glendale well."

Mr. George Mitchell and family arrived at their North Glendale home last week from Wyoming, where Mr. Mitchell reports that many settlers are going into the section of Wyoming where his interests are located to try the hazardous experiment of "dry farming," having paid $15 or $20 per acre for land to speculators who bought it from the railroad company for from $1.50 to $2. Purchases are made on long time. Many of the settlers have to haul water a considerable distance for domestic use.

The Baraca class of the First Baptist church of Glendale held its annual business meeting and election of officers Tuesday evening at the church, corner Louise and Third streets.

Matters of interest were brought before the club, after which the following officers were elected: Teacher, A. R. Taylor; president, Luther Huff; vice president, H. H. Martin; secretary, Harold McElroy; treasurer, Lewis A. Woods; entertainer, W. R. Middleworth; visitor, Everett Ford; reception committee, R. N. Payne, Luther Huff and Howard Martin; reporter, Harry W. Chase.

A very enjoyable Halloween social was given by the B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church, on Friday evening, Oct. 29, at the home of Mrs. N. M. Marchant, 408 Orange Grove avenue. The witches and goblins were out in full force and the gypsy queen, Miss Cumberland of Los Angeles, told very interesting fortunes to the guests. Many enjoyable weird games were played, after which typical refreshments were served. Then the party adjourned to the Nutmeg, on Everett street, where Mrs. Teschan served home-made pumpkin pies. One of the features of the evening was the leading of Mr. A. R. Taylor and Mr. H. H. Martin passed another mile stone in their lives.

Halloween was celebrated as usual by the youngsters by an indulgence in a variety of pranks which they look upon as privileged by the season, but which in some cases are more than merely annoying to the victims. Mr. Gilhouse of Brand boulevard, for instance, feels that there is nothing amusing about the way in which his wagon was taken to pieces and carried away to different parts of the town, causing him the loss of considerable time and some expense peculiarly. The idea which prevails among the boys that Halloween is a time of unlimited license to do as they please, needs to be modified to the extent of discriminating between harmless fun and that which works injury to others.

Many of our people will be glad to hear from Mr. Pickett, who spent several weeks in Glendale two years or so ago. Writing from his home in Shelbina, Mo., he says: "We receive a copy of your paper every week and read it with much interest and note the substantial growth of Glendale. While my misfortune was very great (he had a leg broken while here and was left lame in consequence) I shall ever have a tender spot in my heart for the many good people of Glendale. My health is not the best but I am able to get to the office nearly every day and do considerable office work. Several people from our county are planning to spend the winter in Southern California and I shall insist that they visit Glendale."

SMALL FIRE IN VINEYARD TRACT.

On Friday night of last week a small house belonging to Mr. Aldrich at Fifth and Columbus, was destroyed by fire. The blaze broke out while Mr. Aldrich was temporarily absent and did its work so rapidly that there was no chance to save much of the contents, so that the loss was total. It was insured for $500.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

A brief visit made to Miss Magowan's room this week disclosed great possibilities in her teaching of general science to the first and second year students. The equipment here does not seem very elaborate, but is probably sufficient for the elementary experiments. The pupils are made familiar with such elementary subjects as the composition of water, the properties possessed by oxygen, nitrogen, hydrogen, etc., and the result of their combination in the production of water, light and heat. In the room are a number of boxes containing soil and some interesting and practical experiments are being made in regard to the germination of seeds, the time required to produce the desired results, the effect of moisture, light, fertilizer, etc. In due course the subject of astronomy will be taken up. Miss Magowan's afternoon teaching is on the subject of botany. She is an enthusiast in regard to the subjects she teaches and the pupils apparently enjoy their work and are making good headway. The facilities in the class room for experimenting with plant growth are limited and teacher and pupils look forward hopefully to the time when a portion of the school grounds will be set aside for their work.

On Tuesday last Miss Flood's German class devoted the noon hour to a German luncheon, which was highly instructive as well as enjoyable. The German national colors, black and red, prevailed in the table decorations. German flowers ornamented the place cards. Steins and wooden shoes were the favors, but the former contained nothing more German than fruit punch. The table napkins were of German design and the bill of fare consisted of sausage, black bread, pretzels, cheese and barley cakes.

Prizes were awarded, one to Sol Reharr for eating the most sausage, and to Stone and Stevenson for the most fluent use of German. All joined in singing America and the German national hymn. When the luncheon was over the parting of the guests was in German style with handshaking and the proper Dutch expression of good wishes.

The De Lara case, over which a good many people in Los Angeles become unduly excited, should be followed by good results if it deters irresponsible street orators from playing upon the passions of ignorant audiences by inveighing against law and order and those who are their responsible representatives.

It is perhaps not generally known that under the United States law, aliens may be deported if guilty of advocating the overthrow of any or all governments, or who admit their belief in anarchy, or belong to any organization that teaches such doctrines or professes such belief.

After the automobile road race from Los Angeles to North Baldy, a few weeks ago, we asked in an editorial on the subject why the supervisors permitted such use to be made of the county roads to the very great danger of other users of the public highways. It seems that others were asking the same question—at least, our modesty assumes that such was the case—for those officials referred the matter to the district attorney for his opinion on the subject. Mr. Fredericks in reply tells them that there is a state law prohibiting a speed on the highways of the state, in excess of twenty miles per hour and that it is the duty of state peace officers to see that the rule is enforced, the supervisors having no jurisdiction in the matter. The opinion is no doubt a sound one and we fancy that automobile road racing in this county is a thing of the past. Such will be the case, at least, if the sheriffs and constables and their deputies do their duty.

THE SITUATION IN LOS ANGELES.

Los Angeles holds its primary election under the new law on Wednesday next, and the situation is decidedly interesting. There are seven candidates for mayor in the field now; the contest next week will eliminate all but two of them. One of these two will undoubtedly be the present Mayor, George Alexander; the other will probably be the regular Republican nominee, Smith or Mr. Mushet. If it were not for the unfair fight made against him by the "Reformers," Mushet would probably be elected as Alexander's opponent. The false alarm about his being "an enemy of the public schools" will undoubtedly have the effect of prejudicing many voters against him, however unjustly, for he is in our opinion one of the worthiest of the candidates. The honor of receiving the largest vote at the primary election will probably go to George Alexander, but it does not necessarily indicate his election in December, for by that time the opposition to his election will be united.

Mónrovia has organized a Business Men's Association, one of the objects of which is to protect the merchants against "Fake advertising schemes," which seem to find there as in Glendale easy marks. It is one of the curiosities of human nature that a certain proportion of the business community can be worked by some smooth-talking fakir of whom they know nothing, but at the same time hang back from any legitimate proposition put up to them by their own people. It is one of the accepted facts well known to the professional advertising solicitor that the stranger can succeed better in securing advertising in the average community than can the resident printer or newspaper man. We have business concerns in Glendale who do not spend a cent for the support of the local newspaper which is directly and indirectly working all the time to advance their interests in common with those of the rest of the community, but generally loosen up when some rank outsider strikes town.

GOOD ADVICE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

In speaking to the students of various agricultural institutions which he visited in the South, President Taft took occasion to advise the students and others to interest themselves in agriculture as a business. He spoke of the possibilities of success in tilling the soil, the freedom which the farmer enjoys above all other workers and of the desirability of turning back to country life the influx of population to the cities. He spoke of the wastefulness of past methods and the improvements being made in bringing the business of farming down to a scientific basis. Along these lines there is much to be said. California has been particularly prodigal in its methods of farming and in no other state in the union, perhaps, is there more room for reform in the wasteful practices still in vogue. And in no other state are there held out to the young man who will devote himself to it, greater inducements than California offers to the possessor of strength, intelligence and industry who will devote them to the cultivation of its exceptionally fertile soil. The wholesale and generally wasteful methods in use on the large ranches must give way before very long to systematic and intensive farming that will give on comparatively small acreage results which will mean prosperity for thousands of willing workers.

In the state of Iowa, a few years ago, the agricultural colleges began work on the problem of how to get an increase in the yield of corn without an increase in the acreage. The results achieved were little short of marvelous and the end is not yet, for there is still room for improvement, and the farmers throughout the state are bringing every year additional knowledge to the solution of the problem, with most happy results. For many years in Southern California the seedling orange tree was considered desirable because it bears heavier crops than do the improved varieties budded on the seedling stock. But experience proved that the question of quantity in citrus fruit growing must be made subservient to quality, and now there are in general cultivation only two varieties, the navel and the Valencia, and there would be but one only, but for the fact that these two cover different seasons. The questions being worked out in the agricultural department of the state university and in the various agricultural colleges, are of great interest and should attract the attention of young men in doubt as to what career to follow, for these institutions are opening wide the gates of opportunity.

ELECTION RESULTS. NEW YORK AND SAN FRANCISCO.

Off year elections were held in several of the states last Tuesday, and the result brought few surprises. Dispatches that were at all unbiased clearly foretold the result in New York, where Judge Gaynor was elected over the Republican candidate and Hearst, who with his following constituting the Independence League. While Gaynor was the candidate of Tammany, that tremendous political organization which has "graft" down to a science, his election was for this aggregation of spoliemen, a rather barren victory, as the other offices which are more necessary for their purpose in controlling the funds of the city, will be filled by fusionists, who are said to be men of fair character. Gaynor is said to be a man of strong character who will not be easily controlled by the politicians who nominated him, and may make an excellent mayor. Another election which possesses the elements of local interest was the one held in San Francisco. In this instance, also, the result was not a surprise to those familiar with the situation in that peculiar city. It is a hot-bed of unionism, labor-unionism run wild, and the election of the candidate of that element when his opponents were divided, followed logically. There is a possibility of course, that McCarthy is a different and better man than the public generally supposes, but his record seems to be against him and the fact that a majority of the newly-elected supervisors also bear the brand of unionism would seem to indicate a return to the palms days of graft when Eugene Schmitz and the hoodling supervisors to whom Heney granted immunity, held San Francisco at their mercy.

The defeat of Heney for district attorney is something we believe that San Francisco should be congratulated upon, notwithstanding the lachrymose lamentations of that great organ of "Reform," the Los Angeles Express. Mr. Heney as a public prosecutor has not "made good." He is more in love with himself than the attributes of the object of his adoration warrant, and the interests of the people have suffered in consequence. The people of San Francisco have tired of him and have taken advantage of the opportunity to express themselves. The district attorney elect, Mr. Fickert, is represented as a clean, wholesome sort of a character, and it would be but base flattery to say that he is as good a lawyer as Heney. In his position of public prosecutor he may be able to offset any desire of the labor-union mayor to encourage lawlessness and law breakers.

Correspondence

Glendale, Cal., Oct. 28, 1909.

To the Editor GLENDAL NEWS:

Have been a subscriber for two years to your valuable paper. During my sojourn in Glendale have made many friends, Catholic and non-Catholic.

As I was riding on the car lately admiring the unfolding beauty of the San Fernando Valley, an old gentleman of seventy-seven took the vacant seat next to me in the car. He became very soon communicative and quite chatty without having noticed that I was a Catholic clergyman. When he discovered what I was, I told him pleasantly I supposed he would now go away and seek another seat. "No, not now," said he; "I will not do that now, but there was a time when I would; but as I know you priests now I have gotten over many of my prejudices against you and your religion. When I was young I thought that the Catholic church could not last fifty years in the free air of this country, but I was mistaken." "You forget," I said, "that among the greatest lovers of liberty in the world have been and are Catholics." "Are your people sticking to the church and supporting it?" he queried. "Decidedly," I replied. "Among the best of our church people are young Americans. They fill our churches and receive the sacraments."

"Well," said he sadly, "I am sorry to say that is not my experience with my people. I have been over forty years pastor of a Methodist church about a hundred miles from here, and my congregation has been rapidly dwindling away. The old folks went to church and paid their pew rent; the young ones stay at home and give nothing." His hair was white, his face thin and worn and he looked disappointed and worried. "Now," said he, "how do you manage to hold your people?" "Well," said I, "I shall tell you if you will not be offended." "I shall not be offended to hear the truth," he replied. "Then," said I, "you have lost your people by giving up three important things; and we hold our people by clinging to those very three things or divine institutions. Firstly, you have given up the pope, so that you have no one to decide with certainty your disputes. Hence you disunite and scatter when you please. We keep together because the pope, whom we consider the vicar of Christ, quells rebellion and heals dissensions in our church. Secondly, you have given up the 'Mass' and consequently your religion is only a dry prayer, a hymn that is often neither good poetry nor good music, and a sermon, sometimes bad, sometimes middling, and seldom good. We cling to the 'Mass' as the very soul of religion. It is our great sacrifice. Jesus Christ is really offered in it, and sacramentally offers Himself to us as our spiritual food. The Real Presence makes our churches temples of the living God; and if you visit them even when Mass is not being said, in the evening, for instance, you will find our people absorbed in adoration of the Living God, hidden behind the tabernacle on our altars. Our churches are always alive, for Jesus Christ is alive in them. Thus believe all our people." "Yes," said he, "I know what that means, but I find it too hard to believe." "Yet," said I, "men of the greatest intellects and of wonderful learning have believed and still believe it." "Well, what is the third reason?" he asked. "Confession,"

I replied. "When we are burdened with sin, crushed and sad under its load, we go to the priest, in whom we recognize the power divinely given to absolve, and to him as a father, a judge and a physician, we contritely confess and go away consoled, relieved of our load and light of heart. You have thrown out confession and you have no substitute for it. Hence sadness, moroseness and no proper instrument of reform in the lives of your people." "Well," said he, "I believe in confession, and I often wish we had something like it in my church. I often long for some friend in whom I could have absolute confidence to whom I could confess my failings and from whom I could get advice. I have longed for that for many a day, but particularly since I have grown old." Thus the voice of nature in him was accordant with the voice of faith; but he had not the faith.

We paused for a while in our conversation and he seemed to be ruminating on something, when he suddenly said: "There's one thing you have not mentioned. I followed my cook one afternoon into the Catholic church in my village to see what she was going to do there; and I found her going around from picture to picture of a series on the church walls. She got on her knees before each picture, prayed a while, and then went to the next one, repeated her devotions, and so on to the end of the circuit. I examined the pictures afterwards and found they were what you call 'Stations of the Cross.' I think they are a great help to devotion for every great event in Christ's life is vividly portrayed in them. Oh, your church is a wise old institution." "Thank you," said I, "for the compliment, but I am sorry I cannot return the compliment. But at any rate you see what pictures and statues are of some use in religion and that your church made a mistake by expelling them."

The conductor called "Lomita Park," so I left my venerable friend with a warm shake of the hand and a promise to say a prayer for him.

SOCIALISM.

(Contributed)
An Expert Opinion.

"When our manufactures grow bigger than the United States then there will be war, the bloodiest war in the history of mankind. The time is coming when the manufactures will outgrow the country and men by the hundreds of thousands will be turned out of the factories. That of itself is not so bad, but when we realize that we pay out in wages as much as the rest of the world put together we begin to see the seriousness of the situation. The factories are multiplying faster than our trade, and we will shortly have a surplus with no one abroad to buy and with no one at home to absorb it because the laborer has not been paid enough to buy back what he created. What will happen then? Why, all these men will be turned out of the factories. Thousands of them, hundreds of thousands. They will find themselves without food. Then will come the great danger to the country for these men will be hard men to deal with."

This is not a quotation from a Socialist nor a Socialist paper, but was uttered by ex-Secretary of the United States Treasury Leslie M. Shaw in an address before the students of the Chicago University a few weeks ago.

What do you think of his statement of facts and his reasoning?

FUNERAL OF CHARLES BARKER.

At one o'clock, Tuesday, Nov. 2, the Masonic brothers and friends of Mr. Charles A. Barker gathered at this home in Glendale avenue to pay their last respects to one dearly loved and admired by all.

The verandah of his home where he loved to sit, shaded with trees and ferns and banked with the floral tributes of his friends formed a fitting spot for his last resting place.

The impressive services were conducted by the Unity Lodge of Masons. The ashes of Mr. Barker will remain in Rosedale cemetery until they are taken to their final resting place in Waukegan, Ill.

Mr. Barker was born in Waukegan Dec. 4, 1860. The greater part of his life was spent in Chicago where he was engaged in the real estate and loan business.

Two years and a half ago Mr. Barker came to California for his health.

Mrs. Barker and her son Raymond will remain in California for the present.

DR. T. D. BANCROFT LECTURES.

Dr. T. D. Bancroft of Kansas City, Mo., delivered a very interesting lecture in the auditorium of the Tropic Presbyterian church last Tuesday evening, taking for his subject, "The Assassination of Abraham Lincoln."

Mr. Bancroft is a capable speaker. He was present at the murder of Mr. Lincoln, and gives a very vivid description of the beloved president's death. He was present at the first inauguration of Mr. Lincoln, and served as a member of a volunteer company of one hundred and ten Kansas men who

Mr. Bancroft assisted in removing Mr. Lincoln's body from the theater. While performing the act saw a drop of blood fall from the wound and strike a piece of program at his feet. MONEY IN STOVES

With the arrival of winter the Treasury Department begins to look for consignments of ashes that represent the savings of thrifty people. This condition results from the placing of money in stoves for safe keeping. Only this week a country paper reports a big loss by a farmer who had hid his money in such a depository and another member of the family lit the fire. Don't get caught in this way.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

The Board of Trade held its regular monthly meeting last Monday evening in the office of the secretary, Dr. L. W. Sinclair, the president, Mr. F. H. Vesper in the chair. A resolution was presented and adopted in regard to the franchise of the Pacific Electric Railway company on Fourth street. The resolution was lengthy and in the few moments devoted to its discussion was not made entirely clear to all who were present, but the tenor of it was to the effect that the people of Glendale who were served by the road when it ran up to Glendale avenue are desirous of seeing the tracks replaced and are disposed to do anything fair and reasonable looking to that end. The resolution also expressed the opinion of the members present that nothing should be done in regard to the franchise soon to expire on Fourth street. The meeting adjourned to take part in the open meeting with the board of city trustees meeting as a committee of the whole in the city hall.

event was that just the four ladies were present, and that these four ladies are the only ones in this vicinity who have lived here for the past 25 years. Long before the valley was to any extent built up and when there was "quite a stretch" between the homes, these ladies came to the valley and braved the wilds that then existed in the place where our pretty little town is situated.

The affair was given in honor of Mrs. McWhorter who is moving to Los Angeles.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

November 7th, 1909.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) Paul a Prisoner—The Shipwreck. Acts xxvii:27 to xxviii:10.

Golden Text—The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate. Ps. xxxiv:22.

Verses 27-29—Why does God permit storm and stress to come into most lives, and sometimes permit them to continue until all human hope is abandoned? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

What is the Christian's anchor which never fails him, no matter what danger his ship may be in? (See Heb. vi:19) Verses 30-32—Are all God's promises of help or deliverance conditional, or are some of them absolute and unconditional?

If these men had forsaken the ship, as they planned, how would that affect the saving of the rest of them?

Here is a case of casting away a boat to save a ship, what principle does that suggest in human life?

Verses 33-35—There are two things, at least, possible no matter how great the distress: one is to wring your hands and bemoan your fate, and give up hope; the other is to be cheerful, and see how best to save the ship; which is the better, and how can it be accomplished?

Why is it that the courage and good cheer of one man can save an entire crew from despondency and defeat?

May praying and fasting, when you ought to be eating and working, be as great a practical crime as scuttling the ship?

Why does God generally need our help when he would save us from any impending calamity? v:38.)

Verses 39-44—To a true man is it always so, that after the night comes the day, after sorrow comes joy, and after so-called defeat comes victory?

Does God, in these days, ever save a family, a business, a community, or a nation, for the sake of one man, as he saved the passengers and crew of this ship for the sake of Paul?

Julius prevented the killing of the prisoners for the sake of Paul; is there any analogy between that and the saving of sinners for the sake of Jesus?

God told Paul that all hands should be saved, and the ship lost, and this is what happened; speaking from your own experience are all God's promises equally dependable, whether of a general character as in the Bible, or given to the individual soul?

Chap. xxviii:1—Where is the island of Melita where this wreck occurred?

Verses 2—Are uncivilized people before they have had experience with white men, generally kind to strangers? Verses 3-4—When an accident, or sickness, or other natural calamity comes to a man, is it any sure sign that he is a sinner?

Verses 5-6—If a poisonous viper should fasten on a good man's hand to-day, God would probably not prevent the poison from taking effect; is that a fact to be regretted or otherwise?

Verses 7-10—Is there always "a silver lining to every dark cloud?" Are there any circumstances in which a good man cannot help his fellows?
